- Thermaculture treatment services, a technology for managing crops through the application of heat

Founded in 2007, Agrothermal Systems is based in Napa, CA., and is a dba of Lazo TPC Global, Inc., a California corporation. Agrothermal Systems has pioneered the use of Thermaculture treatment services as a sustainable, low cost technology to increase yields, reduce pesticide needs and improve wine quality. The company holds patents on Thermal Pest Control and has patents pending on other aspect of the technology.

What is “New” or Sets You Apart From The Competition: Agrothermal Systems® is pioneering the use of heat in agriculture as a means to increase yields, improve fruit set, reduce pesticide needs, enhance wine quality, and manage climatic challenges such as drying off crops after rains, and adding sugar late in the season when target maturity shows.
